

Every year, thousands of tourists visit animal attractions without knowing that the animals are often drugged, beaten, starved, abused, or been illegally taken from the wild, as their families were killed.

Elephants like this one are often beaten and starved to make them more obedient

Most of the time, tigers are drugged to be calmer with tourists

WILD ANIMALS NEED TO BE IN THE WILD

If you really love animals, do not interact with them in unnatural environments or feed them yourself and especially do not participate in this horrible trade.
